Four KKK Members Held For Shooting Of Negro

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Four white men were arrested by the FBI Thursday night in connection with the slaying of a Washington, D.C., Negro educationist killed by a shotgun blast as he drove through a rural Georgia area. The FBI said the men were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

U.S. Commissioner G. I. Hawkins said one of the four — James S. Lackey, 28 — admitted complicity in the death of Lemuel Penn, an army reserve lieutenant-colonel slain July 11 as he drove along a northeast Georgia highway near Colbert. Hawkins said Lackey implicated the others.

"They were held in jail under bonds of $25,000 each after arraignment before Hawkins on charges filed under the new Civil Rights Act.

Meanwhile, state authorities looked into the possibility of filing murder charges against Lackey, a gas station attendant; Herbert Quist, 37, a garage operator; Cecil William Myers, a yarn-picker and laborer; and Joseph Howard Sims, 41, a machinist, all of Athens.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrests in Washington, climaxing an intensive three-week hunt for the slayers. Penn was killed when a vehicle pulled alongside and two shotgun blasts were fired into his car.

The FBI complaint said three of the men, Lackey, Myers and Sims, "did shoot and kill" Penn. All four were charged with conspiring to "injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate" Penn. Hoover said Sims was arrested at the Athens headquarters of the Klavern No. 244 of the United Klans of America Incorporated, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Hoover said Guest's garage had been a frequent gathering place for members of the Klan. He said Guest and two other men were arrested last June 21 in a shooting incident when gun shots were fired into a Negro residence in Athens. Guest was found guilty of disorderly conduct and sentenced to serve 100 days or pay $150 fine. He paid the fine.

APPEAL COURT JUDGE CRITICAL ABOUT HANDLING OF HAASE TRIAL

VANCOUVER (CP) — An Appeal Court judge Thursday criticized Mr. Justice H. A. McLean for his handling of the capital murder trial of Lawrence Herman Haase of Kelowna. Mr. Justice T. G. Norris made his comments in his written dissenting judgment on the appeal of Haase against his conviction in the death of Donna Margaret Ring, 14, near her Mabel Lake resort home last Oct. 7.

The appeal court, in a majority decision Wednesday, rejected Haase's appeal. Mr. Justice T. G. Norris was the only dissenting judge.

In his written reasons, Mr. Justice Norris said a statement by Mr. Justice McLean that "it was not open season on little girls" was most inflammatory during the trial, particularly in view of the photographs of the bodies which were before the jury.

He also said the weaknesses in circumstantial evidence of indecent assault were lost sight of in the mass and detail of evidence of the killing.

Haase is scheduled to be hanged Sept. 1.

Prominent Britons Oppose Backing Of U.S. Retaliation

LONDON (Reuters) — Five prominent Britons today criticized the unqualified endorsement given to American air action in North Viet Nam by Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, Foreign Secretary Robert A. Butler, and the British representative in the United Nations Security Council.

They included Canon L. John Collins of St. Paul's Cathedral, a prominent nuclear disarmament campaigner, Kingsley Martin, editor of the left-wing periodical New Statesman, and Prof. Victor Purcell of Cambridge University, a well-known authority on Chinese affairs. In a letter to The Times signed also by John Gittings, Michael Edwards and Dorothy Woodman, they said:

"As always occurs in such crises, accounts of the facts stand in violent contradiction. It is essential that the United Nations Security Council settles the issue of North and South Vietnamese representation without delay so that it can conduct a thorough enquiry.

"Whether American action is only an 'incident' or whether it leads to further hostilities, it is in any case a grave event which may well bring about Chinese involvement.

The most useful step which can now be taken is to recall the 1954 Geneva conference. This is the only forum on which China is represented and peace would seem impossible without Chinese participation."

B.C. Lashes Out At Ottawa On Tax Penalty And Roads

OTTAWA (CP) — Three MPs from British Columbia complained in the Commons today that the new tax equalization formula introduced by the Liberal government penalizes their province for its high revenue from forest industries.

They also criticized the government for refusing so far to introduce a national highways policy or at least call a federal-provincial conference to discuss highway construction plans.

Stuart Fleming (PC—Okanagan-Revelstoke), C. J. M. Wiloughby (PC—Kamloops) and Bert Leboe (BC—Cariboo) spoke on a bill enacting new tax-sharing arrangements worked out with the provinces last winter.

They echoed criticism of the tax equalization formula expressed Thursday by opposition MPs from Alberta that it discriminates against provinces rich in non-renewable natural resources.

Prior Attack Claim Refuted

WASHINGTON (CP-AP) — William P. Bundy, U.S. assistant state secretary for far eastern affairs, has denied that the Maddox, the U.S. destroyer attacked by North Vietnamese patrol-torpedo boats, had any part in alleged attacks on North Viet Nam islands by South Viet Nam vessels.

In a television interview Thursday night, Bundy said the United States is "certainly prepared to act in a large number of ways" in the event of any further military attacks in the Gulf of Tonkin off Communist North Viet Nam.

He denied reports previously aired by U.S. Senator Wayne Morse, (Dem., Ore.) that the Maddox was presumably some 60 to 100 miles off the coast of North Viet Nam during an attack last Friday by South Viet Nam warships against the North Viet Nam coast.

Bundy said the North Vietnamese assert that South Vietnamese small boats attacked two islands off the coast of North Viet Nam on the night of July 31.

Makarios Unbends

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Relaxing his stand slightly, President Makarios has made a carefully-hedged offer to arrange access for United Nations peace-keeping forces to areas on Cyprus barred to them.

The Greek-Cypriot president's cable Thursday to Secretary-General U Thant appeared to retreat from the adamant position Makarios took July 28, when he wrote Thant that it was not possible to let UN patrols enter sensitive areas "where requirements of absolute secrecy on matters of state defence and security are involved."

Thant had protested to Makarios that Greek-Cypriot authorities were barring UN troops from Limassol and other port areas where the Greek-Cypriots were landing arms. He asked the Cypriot government to honor its agreement granting the UN force "full freedom of movement" throughout the island.

South Viet Nam Waits On Alert

SAIGON (CP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh proclaimed a nationwide state of emergency today and warned that South Viet Nam may be "invaded or attacked at any time."

"The crucial hour has struck," Khanh told a press conference here. "The coming weeks will decide the destiny of our entire people."

The announcement of the state of emergency came as a surprise to American officials, here some of whom said it was premature and that the details still were in the planning stage. Khanh told American Ambassador Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and his deputy, U. Alexis Johnson, this morning of his intention to announce the emergency today.

An American spokesman said U.S. officials considered the announcement an internal affair of the South Vietnamese government.

"If it results in more effective prosecution of the war and increased mobilization, then it's a good thing," he said.

The proclamation in effect placed South Viet Nam under martial law. It gave military courts jurisdiction over all violations of public security, with a mandatory death sentence on appeal for terrorist, provocative and profane acts.

The first moves under the state of emergency decree was a curfew clamped on Saigon from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m.

The state of emergency provided for press censorship but it was expected this would affect the local press only.

Lumpas Seize 50 Hostages

LUSAKA (Reuters) — Northern Rhodesian soldiers and riot police today prepared to rescue 50 hostages held by members of the outlawed Lumpa church in the Lundazi district in the Eastern Province.

The religious sect's fanatical followers went on rampage in the area last Monday killing 17 persons whose bodies were found later. An official said the followers of self-styled prophetess Alice Lenshina took 50 villagers prisoner, half of them managed to escape.

Students' Loan Plan Outlined

OTTAWA (CP) — University students seeking loans under recently passed legislation should apply to provincial authorities or their universities while details are being worked out, Finance Minister Gordon said today.

He told the Commons it may be the end of August or early in September before all details are completed in negotiations with provincial authorities.

Under the legislation the provinces designate the authorities for passing on the loan applications. The federal government pays the interest on loans made by the chartered banks during the student's schooling and for six months after.

Reynold Rapp (PC—Humboldt-Melfort-Tisdale) said many students are unable to get the loans now because the machinery for handling them has not been established.

B-57 Rescuers Thwarted By Reds

SAIGON (Reuters) — Communist Viet Cong forces today again drove off rescue parties trying to reach the U.S. Air Force B-57 which crashed in Viet Cong territory Thursday after flying here from the Philippines.

The fate of the plane's two-man crew was not known.

It was understood military authorities were deeply concerned about recovering the large amount of weapons and ammunition aboard, including heavy bombs which were not primed and therefore did not explode on impact.

Martin Agrees On Secret Review About South East Asia Situation

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Martin said in the Commons today he would be glad to appear before a secret session of the Commons external affairs committee to report on the situation in Southeast Asia.

He described as helpful a flood of press reports and analyses advanced by Opposition Leader Diefenbaker.

There was no immediate indication whether the committee would be called into session.

Mr. Diefenbaker made the suggestion in view of what he called the impossibility of forming conclusions about the situation in Southeast Asia on the basis of press reports and the "incompleteness and incomprehensiveness" of Mr. Martin's replies in the House.

Mr. Martin was questioned for about 20 minutes at the opening of the day's sitting.

Prime Minister Pearson also repeated a statement he made Thursday that Canada would be ready to use its good offices in the conflict between North Viet Nam and the United States as a member of the three-power control commission in Southeast Asia.

Mr. Martin said that it has not been Canada's fault if the control commission, composed of Canada, India and Poland, has been unable to discharge its responsibilities in Southeast Asia.

He was replying to Mr. Diefenbaker's request for comment on reports that the retired RCAF adviser to the Canadian members of the commission charged that Canada always backed down when Poland insisted PT boats in North Viet Nam were only fishing boats.

Mr. Diefenbaker noted that the international arrangements of 1954 and 1962, under which the three powers stationed observers in Viet Nam, prohibited PT boats.

Mr. Martin said he investigated the performance of the Canadian members of the commission over the last 10 years.

Canada had always given a lead and had taken the position since 1962, when the arrangements for the commission were amended, that in the absence of unanimity among the three member-countries on a course of action the commission should be able to act on a decision of only two members.

PEKING (Reuters) — Columns of marchers shouting slogans and waving banners and flags staged a mass demonstration here today against "U.S. imperialist aggression" against North Viet Nam.

Multiple listing sales for July first year of the service's operation have smashed all previous records in 1964, said C. H. Williams, secretary-manager, Kelowna Multiple Listing Service.

Wood Harvest Record Seen By B.C. Forestry For 1964

Last year was a record year in some districts was up while in others it was down from last June.

In the forest districts of Vancouver, Prince Rupert (mostly) and Nelson, the production was up while in the rest of the province, including the Kamloops district, of which Kelowna is a part, the production dropped.

The Kamloops district had a production of 13,301,800 cubic feet, down 20.7 per cent from last June.

Weather is a short-term factor that affects the monthly figures but the overall increase of 6.6 per cent is significant in that the timber scaled frequently reflects general business activity in the province, said the forest service today.

The visitor and convention committee are coordinating the Kelowna part, with the cooperation of Mayor R. E. Parkinson, Bob Gordon, said today.

Besides the flowers on Big White the film will probably include, the regatta, points of interest and fruit harvesting," he said.

Rutland Centre Plans Revised

RUTLAND — The provincial government has approved revised plans for the Rutland health centre and work will begin on the structure in the early fall.

William Jurome, Rutland Health Centre president and a representative of the architects designing the building, have just returned from a visit to Victoria, where they met K. G. Benson, senior health officer for B.C.

"Plans were re-designed to include an X-ray and darkroom, among other things," said Mr. Jurome. "Under the new policy on grants by the B.C. Tuberculosis Society, the grant from this source, for the centre, will be on a per capita basis, giving Rutland a possible maximum grant of $3,800, somewhat larger than we anticipated."

"The medical health staff is only charged with the responsibility of treating those infected," he said. "We have an increasing number of cases here, but it is not in the province."

Icelandic Leader To Visit Kelowna

Little Cooler Weather Seen

The brief warm spell has ended for most of British Columbia. The B.C. weather office in Vancouver said today that an intrusion of cool air from the north will bring a change to all of the province overnight, except the Okanagan and Kootenay valleys.

As this colder air mass moves eastward today, showers are expected in coastal regions and thunderstorms in the interior.

The forecast for the Okanagan calls for sunshine today and Saturday, with a few afternoon showers or thunderstorms today.

It will be a little cooler and winds will be light, except southerly 20 and gusty in the afternoon.

The high low in Kelowna Thursday was 19 and 45, compared to 21 and 50 for the same day last year.

The forecast low tonight and high Saturday at Penticton is 30 and 80.

Kelowna Takes Third Prize In Peach Festival Parade

The city of Kelowna float took third place in the Penticton Peach Festival parade today.

Kelowna was well represented at the parade with Mayor R. E. Parkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Len Leathley, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Sharp on the reviewing stand.

Mr. Leathley is chairman of the Kelowna Regatta and Mr. Sharp is president of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce.

The Kelowna Shrimpers Club joined the Vernon and Penticton clubs in the parade. Pioneer Meat also entered a float.

First place in community entries went to the PNE float which depicted a gondola. Verth place in community entries went to the PNE float which depicted a gondola.

Both sides of the parade route were crowded with spectators, some setting up chairs in the shade an hour ahead of time.

A Cancer Society float with loudspeakers asking for coins to conquer cancer was most effective. As it passed most of the spectators threw coins at the open mouths of the wooden clowns on the float.

After the parade a rodeo was held on the festival grounds, where a midway was also set up.

How would you like a trip to Bermuda?

If you go to the movies in the park grandstand on Sunday at dusk, you can have a trip to Bermuda, by film of course.

Bob Gordon, co-ordinator of the visitor and convention committee of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce said today that the Sunday is "Portrait of Bermuda," the perfect way to visit Bermuda by camera.

"Prospect for Plastic," second on the program, illustrates the great versatility of plastic. Plastics are new, taking the place of traditional materials. Laboratory sequences explain the general principle of polymerization for manufactured articles.

A glimpse into the lives of three grandmothers in widely different parts of the world is shown in "Three Grandmothers." Places visited are a village compound in Nigeria, a hill in Brazil, near Rio de Janeiro.

VALLEY STUDENTS TO DANCE IN PROGRAM

Banff Festival Ballet To Perform

Okanagan Valley residents will have an opportunity to see valley talent in action when the Banff Festival Ballet presents a program in Kelowna's Community Theater, August 17.

The program will include "Les Sylphides," "Pointe Counterpoint" and "Bally Nonsense."

Susan Aynsley of Kelowna and Denise O'Brien of Penticton will dance in "Les Sylphides." Laura Gray of Kelowna, Mary McRoberts and Elizabeth Sinden of Vernon and Denise O'Brien and JoAnn Jackson of Okanagan Falls will all appear in "Bally Nonsense."

These dancers are all students of the Canadian School of Ballet under the direction of Gwenneth Lloyd and Betty Farrelly.

BANFF SCHOOL
The ballet company has rehearsed for six weeks at the Banff School of Fine Arts, where an internationally-known faculty gives instruction and direction to the cream of the dancers assembled there for the summer.

The Banff Festival production of "Les Sylphides" has been rehearsed and directed by Julia Farron.

Mrs. Farron, a ballerina with the Royal Ballet for many years, has just retired to become a member of the faculty of the Royal Ballet School in London, England.

"Pointe Counterpoint" is choreographed by Brian Macdonald, recently appointed artistic director of the Royal Swedish Ballet.

CHOREOGRAPHER
A well-known American critic, Walter Terry, recently hailed Macdonald as "one of Canada's most imaginative choreographers."

Using a ballet master as a stage character, Macdonald puts the dancers through their classical pieces in solos, duos, trios and ensembles.

The company will present "Bally Nonsense" to the music "Facade Suite" by William Walton.

This ballet is a satirical romp choreographed by Gwenneth Lloyd and originally danced by the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, of which she is the founder-director.

There will be action like this August 16 in Vernon when the Vernon riders head their annual horse show at the club grounds. Other events will include equestrian classes, freestyle, state three and jumping, all taking place at the riding club grounds.

VERNON (Staff) — Entries slated for Tuesday at 7 p.m. for the Vernon District Riding Club Show August 16 are now being received. About 100 entries are expected. A full day is slated for Sunday at the riding club grounds. Entries will be accepted until 5 p.m. on Saturday. The new set of jumps is finished and anyone willing to help with painting of them may call J. Lalonde. A work party is club members.

Prospects Appear Brighter On Formula For BNA Changes

OTTAWA (CP) — Informed observers here say the prospects are brighter than ever for federal-provincial agreement on a formula for making Canadian amendments to the British North American Act. Prime Minister Pearson is proposing to put the issue on the agenda for his meeting with the premiers in Charlottetown Sept. 12. Next step likely would be a conference of attorneys - general to work on details. Success, which has so far eluded Canada's political leaders for 37 years, would mean that Westminster would be asked to make one last change in the original BNA Act of 1867, a change to make it a Canadian statute. Only then would Canada lose its embarrassing status as the only member of the Commonwealth that must go to London each time it wants to change its own constitution. Mr. Pearson has described the situation as "self-inflicted humiliation." New hope for unanimity among the 11 governments is based on two factors: 1. A growing desire to "re-patriate" the Canadian constitution before the 1967 centenary of Confederation. 2. The change from a CCF to a Liberal government in Saskatchewan, which was the chief dissenter from a draft amending formula worked out in 1960 and 1961 under the chairmanship of the former Conservative justice minister, E. D. Clark. The other 11 governments are basically the same as those that indicated their support of the 1961 document, on which no action was ever taken. The 1961 formula had these key provisions: 1. Unanimous consent of all 10 provinces would be needed before the federal Parliament could amend any section of the constitution dealing with the basic provincial rights in the fields of education, language, and property and civil rights. 2. Sections dealing with only a few provinces, and not affecting the others, could be changed with the consent of those provinces. 3. All other sections could be altered only with the consent of two-thirds of the provinces, meaning seven, provided those seven have at least half the Canadian population. 4. Another provision would allow Parliament to enact laws in the jurisdiction of the provinces, if the provinces agree, and vice versa.

World Press Tense, Divided On Action By U.S. In Viet Nam

LONDON (Reuters) — The world press remained tense and sharply divided in its opinion of American action in North Viet Nam today as U.S. forces in the Pacific continued a state of alert.

Russian newspapers today gave more space to the situation and hostile foreign reaction to the American moves.

Pravda, the Communist party daily, used about half a page on the story. In a comment headed "Aggression in the Gulf of Tonkin" the paper accused the U.S. of "looking for a pretext to strike."

It added "It is characteristic that, mocking at common sense, the government and the U.S.A. acted as if an inevitable military catastrophe threatened its own territory."

Pravda warned that "rash steps and provocation in this region are fraught with the most dangerous consequences."

Under the headline "Dangerous provocation" the newspaper's New York correspondent wrote that "the tone of statements by U.S. officials and utterances by the local press creates the impression that the United States has prepared for a broadening of military operations in Southeast Asia."

STRESSING DANGER Generally, the Soviet press stressed the danger of a widespread conflict in Southeast Asia if the United States does not immediately stop "aggressive activities."

French newspapers remarked today on the calm attitude of President Johnson in his handling of the situation.

The British press remained largely in support of the United States.

In London, The Daily Telegraph said "much verbal indignation" could be expected from Moscow over the American action, "but unaccompanied by

Land Purchase Agreed At Armstrong Meeting

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Purchase was authorized of 53.63 acres from Mrs. Iris Popovich at a meeting of the council of Armstrong-Spallumcheen Municipality. The newly-acquired property will be used as a public ground. The purchase price of $5,000 will be shared by Spallumcheen and the city of Armstrong and registration is to be in both municipal names. Councilors made several suggestions as to the use of five acres of the property. Some thought it might be considered as a camp site and mention was made of the popularity of the Davis Creek campsite as a stop-off place for tourists. A letter from the fire marshal clarified the position of assistant fire marshals, pointing out these persons have jurisdiction only in the area to which they have been appointed. Assistant fire marshal for the city of Armstrong is Art Kemp. Robert Horvay acts in this capacity for the municipality of Spallumcheen. Franklin Martin wrote informing council the application for an access road to the property owned by Cornelius George and Eileen Jennie Martens will be withdrawn. Council authorized the drawing up of a new agreement with the fire hall caretaker, whose duties will now include maintenance of the ambulance. Notification was received from the water rights branch of the application of F. C. Riddle to take 1,000 gallons per day for domestic use from an unnamed spring and 44 acre feet for irrigation from Hazard Creek. This action was approved by council.

Publishers Curb Pickets

TORONTO (CP) — Publishers of Toronto's three daily newspapers obtained a temporary injunction Thursday limiting their striking printers to three pickets at each entrance to the news-papers.

The injunction, issued by the Ontario Supreme Court, also prohibits the International Typographical Union (ITU) from calling the dispute a lockout.

The printers, who have been off their jobs since July 9, are prohibited from distributing, publishing or displaying any placard, tabloid, sticker, handbill or any other document claiming they are locked out.

The Globe and Mail, a morning paper, and The Star and The Telegram, evening papers, have continued to publish since the walkout using supervisory and non-union personnel to do composing room work.

Thursday's injunction is effective until Monday at 2 p.m., when lawyers for the publishers will seek to extend it. It was obtained without representations being heard from the union.

SEE SPREAD In their application, lawyers for the publishers said mass picketing, similar to a display at The Telegram early Thursday, was anticipated at the Globe and Mail.

About 200 pickets gathered outside three back entrances to The Telegram Thursday, slowing the movement of trucks leaving to deliver papers. The marchers included wives and children of strikers.

Interest In Salmon River Plan Reported "Poor" In Armstrong

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Council reported to consider improvement to Armstrong roads so no changes would be Spallumcheen council on the necessary for the next decade. Salmon River development. This would entail removal of some. Response from districts concerned has been poor.

Councilor J. O. Gill will supply council with suggestions for a replacement to fill the vacancy left by the designation of Mrs. R. M. Spragg from the Armstrong-Spallumcheen Parks Board.

Council had not realized Mrs. Spragg's resignation had been given at a board meeting to be held to council.

Clerk Walter E. Saby was granted his leave of absence for holidays, and Councilor P. N. Beyer appointed to act in his place on the committee in charge of arrangements for the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association which will be held in Armstrong August 20.

Councilor Gordon Sidney reported on the public works department and said there had been a number of calls in the municipality and for the driveway at the new school. Preparatory work for next year has been done on roads.

Canada's world fair, Expo 67, will have 20,000 cars close to transportation systems to the roads.

Councilor Peter N. Beyer said.

58th International Regatta Said Surpassing All Others

By SUZANNE EWARTON
Of the Daily Courier Staff

After months of meticulous planning and discussion, the 58th Kelowna International Regatta has already been billed as a water show to surpass all water shows in the world.

Beginning the weekend of Aug. 8 there will be hockey, figure skating, swimming, diving, parades, water ballet and some of the great names in the world of entertainment available for visitors to Kelowna. Come and enjoy it with us.

Saturday, Aug. 8, kickoff day for Regatta week, is hockey night in Kelowna with all-star teams made up of players from the National Hockey League, the Western Hockey League and the Okanagan Junior Hockey League.

Headlining the battle of hockey giants are NHL goal-tenders Johnny Bower of the Toronto Maple Leafs and Jacques Plante of the New York Rangers.

In addition four Portland Buckaroos will take part, Arnie Schmutz and Tom McVie, both right wingers; and centres Art Jones and Gerry Goyer.

There are usually eight professionals on the two teams and the rest are the best of the Okanagan Junior Hockey League.

Headlining the night show Wednesday night is Eleanor Collins, a Vancouver singer who is one of Canada's top television stars. Also featured are Carol Keith, juggler, extraordinary, and the Kelowna Men's Choir.

The conclusion of the first day will be the glamorous Lady-of-the-Lake Crown-rama. This will bring to a climax months of hard work by the charming contestants from Kelowna and district preparing for the coveted title of Lady-of-the-Lake.

At Regatta night shows the audience will not only see gold-plated professionals but the effect of marvellously staged shows under the direction of Ben Knowles of Vancouver.

As well as Commodore Pickersgill, there will be vice-commodore Roger Graham and one of the honorary vice-commodores will be Eddie Tapp, "Mayor" of Maui, attending the celebrations. This year, instead of an honor city, as has been the habit in past years, the state of Hawaii was chosen to be honored. Officials from Hawaii and a group of entertainers will be on hand to provide something a little different in this department.

THURSDAY
Grab a seat in Ogoogo stadium and be treated to the Western Canadian Water and jumping championships. Dozens of up and coming swimmers will be there Thursday nighting their way to the Canadian and Northwest swimming championships. A little later in the day, international champions will put on a professional entertainment and a kite man on this will perform in a thrilling aerial exhibition, to conclude the afternoon display.

Beginning at 6 p.m. there will be a mammoth parade down the Calgary Safety Round-up Band.

The Canadian Northwest diving championships, exhibition and comic diving by World Famous Tots. Cole's professional diving troupe and a diving display of Water Ski Kite soaring will headline the pre-evening entertainment.

The pre-entertainment show will also include para jumping in the park oval Wednesday, Gary Lerman, junior champion sky diver of B.C., will make four jumps during Regatta week. The one Wednesday afternoon will be into the park oval, and the others will take place each night into the lake before the grandstand.

Wednesday night is the official opening of the Regatta by the Hon. J. W. Pickersgill, 1964 commodore.

Many weeks of hard work by Kelowna girls will be presented under the lights at the Aquatic pool when the fabulous original water ballet and paddle board numbers are performed by a group under the direction of Mrs. Joan Nagel.

Also on Wednesday evening there will be professional precision and clown diving by world champions.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three I's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Debtors Take Heart At This; Tycoon Battles In Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — Like some ordinary people, William Zeckendorf is trying to scrape up enough money to pay enough debts to keep his creditors quiet.

But unlike ordinary people, Zeckendorf, 54, is not a struggling entrepreneur. He is one of the great tycoons of the real estate business, and his debts are in the millions.

For more than a year, the business world has watched as this legendary, friendly, 200-pound entrepreneur tried to tame a real estate tiger suddenly turned man.

Sliding prices, weak hotel traffic, project delays and other ailments have beset him. A real estate empire that was the largest in North America at $200,000,000 in 1959 had shrunk to $123,000,000 late last year. In April, reports said, back-payments had amounted to $32,000,000. Three subsidiaries have gone into voluntary bankruptcy, the latest two this week.

Zeckendorf says he can make good if creditors don't press him too hard. He announced a plan Friday under which he said he is seeking to sell $50,000,000 in assets to realize $20,000,000 profit.

Zeckendorf's problems are He says that if creditors operate by years and he should be headed toward oblivion again. Creditors want to cooperate since Webb and Knapp Incorporated is worth far more alive than dead.

Toronto Team Bridge Champs

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto team led by Eric Murray has become the first Canadian team to win the coveted Spingold Trophy of the American Contract Bridge League in 50 years of its existence.

The team swept through 10 rounds of the league's summer nationals here undefeated, winning the finals Tuesday night by 30 international match points over another Canadian team headed by Bruce Gowdy of Mississauga.

Soft Coal Workers Gain Big Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly $20,000,000 has been distributed in benefits to soft coal miners and their families since the United Mine Workers' welfare and retirement fund was established in May 1946, said an annual report released Thursday.

Q12

You are the dealer, neither side vulnerable and have opened One Diamond. Partner responds One Heart. What would you do? One Heart with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♥ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♦ A K J 6 5 4 3 2, ♣ A K J 6 5 4 3 2
2. ♠ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♥ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♦ A K J 6 5 4 3 2, ♣ A K J 6 5 4 3 2
3. ♠ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♥ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♦ A K J 6 5 4 3 2, ♣ A K J 6 5 4 3 2
4. ♠ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♥ A Q J 6 5 4 3 2, ♦ A K J 6 5 4 3 2, ♣ A K J 6 5 4 3 2

1. Four hearts. It would be wrong to bid three hearts or three diamonds, neither of which is forcing. The jump to four hearts is a slam try, since it says in effect that a game contract is feasible even though the heart response may have been based on six points. The jump to game by the opening bidder is in a vastly different category from the jump to game by the responder.

Obviously, the hand cannot be played for less than game, once partner responds with a heart. It is hard to conceive of partner's losing four tricks.

2. Two clubs. The problem here is to represent a 16-point hand without exaggerating or understating the value held. A bid of one notrump would represent a hand of the minimum and this is certainly not desirable, while a bid of two notrump would represent 18 or 19 points. Such problems are best solved immediately.

3. Three hearts. This is by no means a perfect rebid, but it comes closer to hitting the mark than any other bid. The trouble with the jump raise to three hearts is that it implies four hearts, and we have only three. However, this deficiency in trump is sufficiently compensated by the high-card values (14 points) to make the bid reasonably accurate. The jump raise is not forcing, but, in practice, partner seldom passes.

4. Two spades. This bid, being a jumpshift, is 100% forcing and states in effect that a game can be made even though partner may have only six points. The destination of the hand is not yet clear—the final contract may be played in spades, hearts, diamonds or notrump, depending on partner's hand.

There are two objections to bidding only one spade over a heart. First, partner may pass, and this is certainly not desirable, and second, if it turns out points, while a rebid of two notrump would represent 18 or 19 points. Such problems are best solved immediately.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

The only restrictions now are concerned with communications. If you are tactful and discreet in correspondence, conference and verbal transactions, you should have smooth sailing in other fields. Especially favored: group activities, travel and outdoor interests.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, the year ahead should prove, if not entirely stimulating, at least a conservatively progressive one. Personal affairs should be the intervening periods, however. Best periods for travel: the current month, September and May.

A child born on this day would make an excellent salesman; could also succeed in any field involving dealings with the public.

HOUSE BIGGER

Architect John Bird, of Westmount, Quebec, designed this large, three-bedroom brick veneer split-level house. The split-level house is a relative newcomer to the Canadian housing scene and embodies some of the advantages of the bungalow and the two-story house. One feature over the two-story type is that there are only six or seven steps between floors which makes for less strenuous stair climbing. An advantage over the bungalow is the greater separation between the sleeping and living areas. In addition, the split-level type of house is most useful in solving the problems presented by a sloping lot. The garage of this particular house is at grade level and seven steps lead up to the front door. The living room is to the front of the house. Behind it and seven steps lower are the family room and the kitchen. The bedrooms are eight steps up from the living room. The ceiling of the living room is at the same height as the bedroom ceilings. The basement, which contains heating and storage, extends only under the living room. The best orientation would be for the left side to face north. The floor area is 1,735 square feet, excluding the garage, and the exterior dimensions are 33 feet by 56 feet six inches. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 762, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Cane Dries Right Out

QUESTION: Many years ago I bought a pair of low woven cane stools, which we use as foot rests. The cane looks very dried. I have never given it any special treatment, other than dusting and cleaning. How can the cane be restored?

ANSWER: The cane can be restored by brushing it generously with linseed oil, then wiping off all unabsorbed oil within a half hour to avoid formation of a gummy residue on the surface. This is almost impossible to remove later. Or brush on pure, fresh, white shellac (thin half-and-half with denatured alcohol). Spray-type shellac, thinned with varnish, or clear plastic spray can also be applied.

TERNE ROOFS

QUESTION: Have been hearing lately of terne roofs. What kind of roofing material is this and what are its advantages?

ANSWER: Terne is today's name for roofer's tin. It is also known as valley tin. It is copper-bearing steel coated with a lead and tin alloy. The advantages are its durability, lightweight and ease of maintenance. It lasts indefinitely, only requiring painting every six to eight years for weather protection.

CUT GLASS VASE CLOUDY

QUESTION: Have you a formula to remove the foggy condition from the inside of a cut glass vase? No doubt caused from prolonged use of water and cut flowers.

ANSWER: Half fill vase with soapuds and hot water (careful vase is warmed gradually), adding household ammonia. Then shred newspapers into very small strips and stuff into the vase. Use a generous amount, stirring it with a rod or stick. When the paper becomes mushy, swirl it around and it will work effectively to remove the foggy film. Then rinse with clear water.

Plywood Mills in B.C. Face Most Pressing Targets

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Plywood mills in Canada are in breakneck competition to build down costs, increase production and get their product to a hungry market.

They are seeking to improve every step in their operations. It means developing better logging, bark and sawing of logs, better peeling, drying, gluing, patching, grading, sanding and bundling of plywood.

A man who can answer these demands with revolutionary equipment, and tailor the equipment to the existing plant, is Norm Sprague. And he's supplying mills from Quebec, B.C. to Lewiston, Idaho, from Roseburg, Ore., to Mattawa, Ont.

Although he now has a few equipment for other kinds of log processing, Mr. Sprague, 45, made his mark in the 1950s with a system that improved the process of peeling rough logs to produce veneer, the thin sheets that are the stuff of plywood. This lathe conversion system allowed much more of the log to be used and also set a new log in position for peeling in four or five seconds, improving production speed.

It was one patent he took with him in 1955 when he quit as mechanical superintendent at Canadian Forest Products Ltd. after 20 years and entered partnership with old friend Charlie Carrozza.

SOLD IDEAS

Mr. Carrozza brought the skills of a double-degree graduate in engineering and economics. Mr. Sprague, whose New Westminster education went only as far as a senior matriculation, contributed experience in plant layout and flow systems as well as a knowledge of electronics from 1943-46 radar work in the Canadian Navy.

Neither brought any money, but they didn't need money at that stage. Ideas were their product.

Their purpose was to make plywood operations more efficient. It meant contracts—first in the northwestern U.S., later in B.C.—for development, layout and installation of equipment.

Trips to the bank started in 1962 when their Cargate Industries Ltd. bought out the Westminster Iron Works here for $300,000 and started to manufacture.

Now tied in with a dozen other companies, including four wholly owned, Cargate Westminster Industries Ltd. designs equipment for affiliates that manufacture veneer, plywood, and other products. They design, supply parts and do repairs. It develops from scratch entire plant systems, produces them in its shops and supervises installation.

Israeli Killed In Border Clash

TEL AVIV (AP)—An Israeli soldier was reported killed and another missing after a one-hour border clash early Thursday between an Israeli patrol and a Syrian detachment. An Israeli military spokesman said an Israeli patrol making a routine border inspection crossed by mistake into Syrian territory, in the upper Jordan River valley.

U.K. Vessel Sinks After Crash In Fog

CHIEFBOURNE, France (Reuters)—The 44-ton British ship Guernsey Coast sank in the English Channel north of here early Thursday after being in collision in thick fog with the Liberian-registered vessel Catcher (7,238 tons). Radio reports said all of the crew of the British coaster were picked up except one man.

HELPFUL HINTS ABOUT YOUR HOME

Amount Of NHA Loan Depends On Several Related Aspects

The amount of NHA loan you may obtain will depend on the lending value of your property, the maximum loan permitted by regulation, and your annual income.

Lending value is the value of your proposed house and lot as established by CMHC. It is determined from the plans and specifications submitted with your loan application and a knowledge of the area in which the house is to be built. Your loan may be as high as 95 per cent of the first $15,000 of the lending value plus 75 per cent of the remainder.

For example, if the CMHC lending value for your house and lot has been established at $15,000, the amount of the loan available would be $13,425. If you are building a house with four or more bedrooms, the maximum amount you may borrow is $15,000. For a house with less than four bedrooms, the maximum loan is $13,900.

MORTGAGE INSURANCE

Approved lenders are insured against loss on NHA loans through the operation of a mortgage insurance fund established under authority of the Act. The fee for this insurance is paid by the borrower.

Amputation For "Bandit"

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A bandit who has caught up with that woman gambler's delight, the one-armed bandit.

Now there's a no-arm bandit. It looks pretty much like a regular slot machine but after you drop in the coin the wheels with pictures of cherries and bells are spun electronically.

This has certain advantages for the gambler. The conventional jackpot machine is operated by a hand-dropped coin in the coin slot, and the lever with the right.

The new model employs the right for coin-dropping leaving the left free for holding drinks, slotting purses, giving for more change or even scratching one's back. It also makes it easier for smokers and those who prefer operating two or three machines at one time.

PROVIDE BONANZA

For the gambler, the electronic models are a bit of a bonanza. They don't require "elbow room" to the side and space at the rear for emptying coin boxes. This permits twice as many new ones in the same floor area.

And at a 20-hour earnings rate, they permit a theoretical $500 extra a year every 24 hours if operated steadily.

Because the house always wins, this is important. Machines are set to keep anywhere from 15 to 30 per cent of the coins fed into them.

The new machine has only 25 moving parts, compared to about 2,000 for the old bandits thus cutting repairs. And because they pay winners out of their own coin reservoirs, they free floor employees of the chore of paying jackpot winners.

They are adaptable within minutes to accept pennies, nickels, dimes or quarters—a job that required almost an overhaul on old ones.

lawa, near North Bay, Ont., and reports that the investment will be returned in about 15 months.

More important, the company expects to be able to extend its forest holdings and open up new areas now that it can make plywood from smaller logs.

Perhaps the most immediate saving through Cargate equipment is reported by Western Plywood Ltd., whose Cariboo plant in Quesnel is producing 30 per cent more plywood since its lathe conversion.

Sprague is his own best salesman. He has never admitted to himself or a client that a given job cannot be accomplished.

"It's got me into trouble," he says. "But when you get started you don't make money. You make your reputation."

Spectacular Drama Termed Generation's Greatest Play

LONDON (CP)—A spectacular drama about the Spanish conquest of the Inca empire of Peru has been hailed here as "the greatest play of our generation" and the biggest theatrical treat for British audiences since the heyday of George Bernard Shaw.

The play, The Royal Hunt of the Sun, opened at Chichester Festival Theatre in Sussex and is slated to move to London's West End before long. It is the first new English play to be presented by the National Theatre headed by Sir Laurence Olivier.

Playwright Peter Shaffer, on whose grey, close-cropped head the Shavian laurels have been placed by critic Bernard Levin of The Daily Mail, is an unassuming, bespectacled bachelor of 38 whose hobbies are listed in Who's Who as "music, a riddle, a lecture and peering about."

He has two solidly successful if not epoch-making plays behind him and in 1960 won the New York Critics' Circle award for the best new foreign play with Five Finger Exercise, a study in cross-tensions in a suburban household.

YEARS TO WRITE

He has been working on his play about the Incas for six years, rewriting the draft about six times before it satisfied him. Even now he is still pruning and shaping scenes before the play goes to London.

In contrast to the "kitchen-sink" dramatists, Shaffer believes there should be "more magic, more beauty and more entertainment in the theatre." London's drama critics, nearly all of whom enthuse about The Royal Hunt of the Sun, say he has provided just that.

An intellectual, spectacular, epic for the age, says Alan Brien of The Sunday Telegraph. "Mr. Shaffer has baked a giant layer-cake, with theology, sociology, history and philosophy all spread together under a pink icing of popular entertainment. He has put the gilt back on the gingerbread."

Levin of The Mail, a critic noted for hatchet-job reviews, visited the play twice in four days and apparently can't find enough superlatives for "the finest new play I have ever seen."

He describes it as a "total, agonized rejection of Christianity" and says that if the lord chamberlain—Britain's stage censor—had truly understood the play's message, he would have banned it.

"Fortunately he has not, and the greatest play of our generation joins hands with the years."

The basic theme of the play is the clash between the Spanish conqueror Pizarro, who is in search of something his native religion cannot give him, and Atahualpa, emperor and sun-god of the Incas, who believes he is divine and has the power of resurrection.

The climax comes when Pizarro, won over to the beliefs of the civilization he and his 167 adventurers have brutally conquered, waits in vain for the murdered Inca sovereign to rise from the dead in a scene that parallels—or parodies—Christ's descent from the cross. "You cheated me!" cries the Spaniard to the dead sun-god, unaware that he is also addressing his own god. Critic Levin writes of the chilling moment: "Outside the flimsy shell of the theatre the wind howls in an empty universe."

Some reviewers, including Toronto-born Milton Shulman of The Evening Standard, feel the play is sometimes in danger of being overwhelmed by sheer scale. Not only does the action span the crossing of a continent, the climbing of the Andes and the massacre of the Incas—all worked out in stylized scenes illuminated by richly descriptive language—but the main plot shoots out dozens of sub-themes arising from the clash of civilizations and human motives.

Bamber Gascoigne, critic of The Observer, says the daring experiment of compressing all this within the confines of a stage, which could easily have turned "mightily ridiculous," proves that "with its ancient armory of words, costume and acting, the theatre can do anything."

Ex-Patient Sent Civil Rights Letter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sources close to the Federal Bureau of Investigation said today a former psychiatric patient with a penchant for writing letters wrote Negro comedian Dick Gregory, purporting to reveal the fate of the three civil rights workers whose bodies were found in Mississippi Tuesday.

But the letter was based on newspaper accounts and proved worthless to federal agents who investigated it immediately after Gregory turned it over to the FBI, these sources said.

The FBI refused to comment on this or any other aspect of the case. But the White House is reported to have been told that the three-page typewritten letter, as well as tape recordings that Gregory said he received, were worthless.
